>What if he came over the border ahead of the caravan? Or is operating because the cells they had going through the caravan got busted?

This is a false flag psyop.

The CIA wouldn't let their assets be in danger wandering through a caravan in Mexico and Central America. That's too risky.

They invest a lot of money training and arming their terrorists.

In all likelihood, he flew on in on a private jet or US military aircraft. Just watch and see.

This guy will turn out to have ties to the Deep State.

Damn, i guess after banning guns all together, and having a security guard on site that failed, there are no other options for situations like this. People are going to get killed no matter what.

If only there were some way, for all men to be allowed to carry guns in public, since gun free zones with security guards don't stop mass shootings.

Fuck it, lets just ban literally all guns everywhere instead. That will definitely stop these acts.

moron they would be robbing the office and bar where all the money is. if you are a real criminal it is easy to case a places register and how to get in easy and other details. wouldn't be hard to plan at all probably pretty lax security at a bar like that.

One of the victims just got shot in the shoulder, so he's probably fine. Another person looked alive when brought out so maybe about four deaths all together unless they didn't get the number of victims right.
